2025 Fourth Quarter Award Recipient

Helping Hand commends Learning and Capability Consultant Jodie in the There to Care Awards, for her dedication to learning and development, and welcoming the newest members of staff to the organisation.

Jodie consistently demonstrates a passion for teaching the history, mission and strategy of Helping Hand.

"I help those who work directly with clients and residents, so my greatest joy is facilitating the training of new inductees as I have the privilege of welcoming them," she says.

"I get to paint a picture of what it looks and feels like working at Helping Hand, and that we are really trying to deliver the best care we truly can. Through our education, we lay that foundation, with our values forming so much of how we work," she says.

"And our culture comes from our people. When I walk around and see how warm and welcoming everyone is, that's rewarding.

"Our mission is to provide residents that opportunity to live their best lives. That's what drives me every single day."

Winning the Quarter 4 Award was truly the perfect touch to what has so far been three wonderful years at Helping Hand for Jodie.

"I was really surprised of the win, humbled and appreciative. It's nice to know the impact I'm having; that's my reward," she says.

Thanks, Jodie, for being there to care.

There To Care Awards focus on celebrating our values of excellence, respect, compassion and community, helping us to celebrate the amazing work our people do every day.
