Amy

Graphic Design & Social Media Coordinator
Marketing & Communications Department

2025 Second Quarter Award Recipient

Helping Hand congratulates Amy, Graphic Designer and Social Media Coordinator in the Marketing team, on being recognised as a There to Care Award recipient.

For the past 19 years, Amy has brought creativity, dedication, and purpose to her work. Her role is a dynamic mix of designing materials for print and digital platforms, managing social media content, and contributing to a wide range of projects that tell the stories of residents, clients, and staff in a respectful and meaningful way.

“I love the variety – every day brings something different,” she says. “Knowing that my work supports people who are providing care to others is a strong motivator. Even though I’m not on the front line, I hope what I do helps create a sense of connection, recognition, and pride across the organisation.”

Over the years, Amy has worked in corporate administration, community respite, and several roles within the marketing team. She values the opportunity to have grown and learned in a purpose-driven environment, while staying true to the organisation’s values.

“To me, excellence, respect, care, and compassion aren’t just words – they guide how we treat each other and how we represent people in our work,” she says. “It’s about doing things well, doing them respectfully, and remembering the impact our work has.”

Amy says she was surprised but honoured to receive the award. “I tend to keep a low profile, so this means a lot. It’s lovely to be appreciated, and I’m grateful to be part of a team and organisation that values everyone’s contribution.”

There To Care Awards focus on celebrating our values of excellence, respect, compassion and community, helping us to celebrate the amazing work our people do every day.
